DURHAM, NH – Support for President Obama's handling of foreign policy has reached a new low in New Hampshire. Most Granite State adults oppose U.S. involvement in Libya

These findings are based on the latest WMUR Granite State Poll,* conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Five hundred four (504) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed by telephone between April 15 and April 26, 2011. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 4.4 percent.

Foreign Affairs

With ongoing conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan, and with new involvement in Libya, most New Hampshire adults disapprove of the Obama Administration's handling of foreign policy. In the most recent Granite State Poll, 43% approve of how President Obama is handling foreign affairs, 52% disapprove, and 5% are neutral. There is a distinct partisan divide with 80% of Democrats, but only 6% of Republicans approving of Obama's handling of foreign affairs. Independents are more divided with 40% approving and 56% disapproving of the administration's handling of foreign affairs.

Libya

While popular uprisings forced out leaders in Egypt and Tunisia, Libyans have been unable to remove longtime leader Muammar Gadhafi and the country has devolved into a civil war. The U.S., through NATO has been helping enforce a no-fly zone in Libya in support of the rebels. “Typically, when the U.S. begins a military engagement, there is strong public support, called a ‘rally effect’,” said Andrew Smith, Director of the UNH Survey Center. “We are not seeing signs of this effect in New Hampshire.” In the most recent WMUR Granite State Poll, only 37% of New Hampshire residents support U.S. military action in Libya, 54% oppose, and 9% are neutral or don’t know.

Majorities of both Republicans (65%) and political independents (58%) oppose the U.S. being involved while Democrats are divided with 48% supporting and 43% opposing U.S. involvement.

Support for Military Action in Libya

Similarly, a slim majority of New Hampshire adults disapprove of President Obama’s handling of the situation in Libya. Currently, 51% of New Hampshire adults disapprove of the Obama Administration’s Libya policy, 40% approve, and 9% are neutral or don’t know. There is a significant partisan gap in approval of Obama’s handling of Libya, with 67% of Democrats but only 14% of Republicans approving. Most independents (53%) disapprove of Obama’s handling of the situation in Libya.

Obama Approval: Libya

Afghanistan

Most New Hampshire adults continue to believe the war in Afghanistan is going badly for the United States. Currently, 59% of New Hampshire adults think the war in Afghanistan is going badly, 35% think it is going well, and 6% don't know. The percentage of those who believe the war is going badly has remained relatively unchanged since last September.

How is War in Afghanistan is Going for US?

A majority of New Hampshire now disapprove of President Obama's handling of the war in Afghanistan. Currently, 42% of New Hampshire adults approve of his handling of Afghanistan, 51% disapprove, and 7% are neutral or don't know.

Democrats (63%) are most likely to approve of his handling of the situation in Afghanistan, while Republicans (71%) and political independents (49%) are most likely to disapprove.

Obama Approval: Handling Situation in Afghanistan

New Hampshire adults are very pessimistic about the chances that the United States can be successful in Afghanistan. Currently, only 28% believe the U.S can win in Afghanistan, 60% think we cannot win, and 12% are not sure.

Pessimism about the war in Afghanistan is bipartisan, with majorities of Democrats (60%), Republicans (57%), and Independents (60%) all believing the U.S. cannot win in Afghanistan.

Iraq

Approval of President Obama's handling of the situation in Iraq has also declined, though a slim majority continues to approve of his policies there. In the most recent Granite State Poll, 51% of New Hampshire adults approve of his handling of Iraq, 38% disapprove, and 10% are neutral. Obama holds majority support from Democrats and political independents - 75% and 50%, respectively. However, more Republicans now disapprove (59%) than approve (29%) of Obama's handling of the war in Iraq, down from 45% approval in February.

Opposition to the U.S. having gone to war with Iraq remains high. Currently, only 36% of Granite Staters support the U.S. having gone to war with Iraq, 56% oppose it, and 8% are neutral.

Can the US Win in Iraq?

Granite Staters continue to be pessimistic about the U.S. winning the war in Iraq. Currently, only 37% of New Hampshire adults think the U.S. can win the Iraq War, 49% think the U.S. cannot win, and 14% don't know. Republicans continue to be the most optimistic about U.S. prospects of victory in Iraq but less than half of Republicans (48%) now believe the U.S. can win. While there has been an increase in the percentage of Democrats who believe the U.S. can win, they continue to be the least optimistic with only 27% thinking winning the Iraq war is possible.

Granite State Poll Methodology

These findings are based on the latest WMUR Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Five hundred four (504) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed by telephone between April 15 and April 26, 2011. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 4.4 percent.

The data have been weighted to adjust for numbers of adults and telephone lines within households, respondent sex, and region of the state. In addition to potential sampling error, all surveys have other potential sources of non-sampling error including question order effects, question wording effects, and non-response.
